Nonverbal Communication "The Hidden Message"

Join us on Thursday, May 12 at 7PM for a presentation by local communications expert, Bill Acheson. In face-to-face communication, body language accounts for more than two thirds of the impact of your message. It is always more emotionally revealing and always more emotionally accurate than what we say. In this session you will learn ways to enhance your own body language as well as how to understand the hidden messages sent by others. We will examine first impressions, consider how rapport is established, and look at projecting personal power. Bill Acheson is an expert in nonverbal communication. As a faculty member of the Department of Communication at the University of Pittsburgh for over 20 years and as a professional speaker since 1994, Bill has spoken to thousands of people across the United States about how to use body language to communicate more effectively. Please Register.

Check out the new Little Free Library at the Y!

Children from the YMCA's Child Care and Educational Development program participated in a ribbon cutting ceremony for the new Little Free Library provided by the Friends of the Sewickley Public Library. Sandy Waseleski, a ribbon cutter and past member of Friends led the charge on the Little Free Library project at the Y. Sandy knows the importance of reading and having access to a variety of books since she taught first grade for 35 years at Osborne Elementary. Look for the library as you come into the Y!

Save the Date for Summer Reading Starting June 6!

During this 8 week program participants are asked to record their reading progress. Prizes will be awarded for all age groups. Please see the Summer 2016 Newsletter for information on signing up.

Join us for a Coffee with Guy Meet & Greet on Friday, May 13 at 10AM. Open to the Public. Stop in any time between 10 and 11:30 and meet Senator Reschenthaler. He wants to hear from you. No Registration.

Sewickley Public Library Moves Me

By Joyce D. Cortese – Secretary to the Board

I've been a supporter of the SPL for the past 40 years. This past year, it has sparked my interest and aided me in new areas. One such program held at SPL and given by the University of Pittsburgh Research Department for 60-75 year olds, was called "Move Up". They want to find ways the elderly can gain a respect for changing their thinking about attaining a healthier lifestyle, promoting healthier living and more mobility in their senior years. I always thought I knew a lot about healthy food, but this class has given me new insight on how much is actually needed to sustain a healthy life and finding the right kind of exercise to be comfortable with to become more active. I had already done the Univ. of Pittsburgh exercise program for arthritis sufferers and learning Tai Chi, so I signed up for "Move Up" to further my quest for becoming more fit. It has been an inspiring 22 weeks and will come to an end in the fall. Hopefully we will be engulfed in an improved routine for healthier living by then. Thank you SPL for allowing "Move Up" the space for seniors to receive more education on how to keep strong and active.

Spring Bound II was held on April 2 and was a huge hit!

Thank you to The Friends of Sewickley Public Library for hosting an art fundraiser, Spring Bound II, which raises funds for the library. Committee members Tim Hadfield, Randi Morgan, Yunsu Park, Teresa Duff, Leslie Riker, Bernard John, Bobbi Irving, Jamie Chappell, Maria Swanson and Clayton Steup presented a classy evening of art and refreshments. 50% of the art sales went to support the library. Many thanks also to our sponsors, the Sewickley Valley Chamber of Commerce, Vivo Kitchen, B Gourmet, the Swanson Family, Diemert Insurance, Kate Jeffe, Nancy Rostek, Sewickley Confectionary, Kim Gould and Evan Stiger. We'd like to give a special shout-out to Denise Shirley who allowed us to use the former Pendleton store as our venue. Ms. Shirley will be opening a new shop, Gather, in the very near future.

To Emily Fear, SPL Teen Librarian,

We wanted to send you a note to say thank you for sponsoring Battle of the Books. What a wonderful way to connect kids to reading and to encourage their love of reading as they get older. Elizabeth really enjoyed herself last evening at the competition! Elizabeth has been in Battle of the Books since fourth grade--and every year has been more exciting than the last! Thank YOU for ALL that you do behind the scenes to make this event happen every year. What a testament to creating life-long learners. Thank you!
Jonathan Truchan , QVMS Teacher and loyal parent

Staff Pick for May: Reference Librarian, Meghan Snatchko

"Go then. There are other worlds than these." – Jake Chambers, The Gunslinger by Stephen King.

This quote by young Jake Chambers is a perfect way to describe King's body of work. As a HUGE fan of Stephen King (still, I'm no Annie Wilkes [Misery]) I have traveled all over the Kingverse. Maine is a popular setting as are New York City and Florida, but there are many other locations that really exist or don't. They may be close copies of real places (Derry, ME = Bangor, ME) or they could be completely made up and not a part of our reality at all (Calla Bryn Sturgis in the Dark Tower series). They may take place in an alternate timeline [11/22/63] or in a world concurrent with ours (Ur [Bazaar of Bad Dreams]). The settings in many of his books are like another character. They develop, you love them, you hate them, you fear them...would you stay at the Overlook Hotel [The Shining] in the dead of winter all by yourself? For free? Me neither.

You might be surprised to know that I have not read everything by King. Yet. I'm drawing it out to last as long as possible. I know the point of this part of the newsletter is to tell you about my staff pick, with "pick" being singular, but I don't think I can do that. It wouldn't be fair to Charlie McGee [Firestarter], or Larry Underwood [The Stand], or even Randall Flagg (which book ISN'T he in??) I would rather be a classmate of Carrie White [Carrie] than pick only one. So my answer to the question, 'Which is your favorite book by Stephen King?' would have to be whichever one I'm reading right now.

The setting for my next Stephen King adventure is our very own little village. In case you haven't heard (have you been in Shawshank for the last 26 years?) The Penguin Bookshop will be presenting "An Evening with Stephen King" on Wednesday, June 8th, at 7:00PM at Sewickley Academy's Rea Auditorium. The tickets go on sale April 17th at 11AM. I'll be in line, will you?

- A Constant Reader

Meghan, at home with her ever-growing Stephen King book collection.

Beginning May 4th 2016, the Sewickley Public Library will exhibit the work of Giselle Potter. The noted children's book illustrator and author has worked on 30 books, among them are titles by Toni Morrison, Mary Pope Osborne and Gertrude Stein, as well as 5 that she herself both authored and illustrated. The exhibit will contain original artwork produced for children's books, as well as sketches and unfinished art that will highlight the illustrator's process.
